Family History

Eleazar was born in Oaxaca and she came to live in Ensenada because her siblings who have been living there for a while invited her.

Eleazar had to leave the father of her children because he had problems with alcohol, therefore she decided to move to Ensenada with her children.

When she came to Ensenada she first lived with her siblings. She worked in a field and her siblings helped her take care of her children while she was working.

At that time one of her siblings sold her a piece of land where she built a little house for her and her family. Eleazar is currently paying off the land to her brother.

Currently she has been unable to work due to health reasons, three years ago she had problems with fibroids (tumors that grow in the uterus). She has been operated on, but it didn't help much and now she can't lift heavy things.

Her oldest daughter Lorena works in the field and supports her mother because Eleazar is still unable to work. Her other daughter Tania is currently not working or studying.

She is sick with anemia and has been in treatment for one year.

Her son Azael is studying and two days a week he works in the field to help cover the living expenses of his family.

Eleazar has not been able to build a proper house for her family because she didn't have the financial resources and being a single mom has been hard for her. They need a house especially for the winter times so they won't be cold and will be safe.
